CUT ON COAL RATES DEMANDED

BATTLE FOR REDUCTION UNDER WAY

Rail Schedule In Ohio Too High, Donahey Says

DISCRIMINATION CHARGED

Crabbe And Commission Gather Data for Action

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press)—Attorney General C. C. Crabbe and officials of the state public utilities commission today were gathering data relative to coal rates from the southern Ohio mining districts with a view to determining what action to take on Governor Donahey's directions to the attorney general to prosecute cases looking to a reduction of freight rates on Ohio coal in an effort to relieve the coal mining situation in the state, which the chief executive declared to be critical. The governor contends that a contributing reason for inaction of Ohio mines is alleged discriminatory freight rates against Ohio coal in favor of coal mined in West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

MEDIUM FOR ACTION

It is probable that state officials will find a medium for any action they may take in the case of the Ohio Collieries Co. of Toledo against the Hocking Valley Railway Co., in which the rates from the Hocking mining district to Columbus are attacked on the ground that they are discriminatory, unjust and unreasonable as compared with rates from West Virginia and the Pomeroy district. The Hocking and Pomeroy districts have the same rates and the Ohio Collieries Co. contends that the rate from the Hocking district should be less than that from the Pomeroy district.

In the pathway of any action that the Ohio public utilities commission may take to reduce rates on Ohio coal lies the ruling of the interstate commerce commission of June 8, 1923, which established a differential of 75 cents per ton in favor of the Southern Ohio mining districts over West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee coal mined in what is known as the "inner crescent" and a differential of 50 cents per ton in favor of Ohio coal over that mined in the "outer crescent." The "inner crescent" included mining territory in West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee contiguous to the southern Ohio coal fields while the "outer crescent" includes mining districts farther south, taking in Virginia.

This ruling of the interstate commerce commission not only established these differentials on interstate shipments, but also shipments wholly within Ohio, holding that the same differentials shall apply on purely Ohio state rates.

W. L. DOUGLAS IS DEAD

Boston Shoe Manufacturer Dies Following Operation

BOSTON — (By Associated Press)—William Lewis Douglas, former governor of Massachusetts, died at the Peter Bent Brigham hospital here early this morning. The former governor had been seriously ill for the past month, having been operated upon at the hospital three times. Physicians had reported that he had borne the shock of each operation as well as could be expected of a man of 79 years.

Douglas was born in Plymouth, Mass., in 1845. After a brief and irregular schooling he started to work pegging shoes. He continued this type of work for several years and then became an operative in cotton mills in various Massachusetts towns. Later Douglas returned to the trade of boot-making, rising from journeyman to foreman. In 1876 he started a small shop of his own. His business developed rapidly and he became the president of the W. L. Douglas Shoe Co., a concern which retails its products thruout the country.

Hard Winter Is Forecast By Old Timer

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo. —(By United Press)—It's going to be an early winter and a hard one, says Joe Douglas, old timer and weather sharp.

Joe ought to know the signs, and he says they all point to it. Joe is a ranger at the Yellowstone Lake station, and his keen eyes have been observing things in this part of the world—particularly the ways of nature and nature's children, the birds and animals—for many years.

"The blackbirds are flocking together earlier than usual; the deer are already coming down from the high places; the squirrels are unusually active; ducks are flying in formation, like they were getting ready to go south; the coyotes are howling nights and everything points to an early winter and a long cold one," said Joe.

"Doug" says he never saw a summer when the nights were so uniformly cold as this year. No Yellowstone visitor has suffered from hot nights.

Every month this year snow has fallen in the park. Even June, July and August had their snowstorms, out of which tourist visitors got quite a thrill. Singularly, these summer blizzards were almost a month apart, the first occurring on June 19, the next on July 21, and the third on August 20. Each time a considerable snowfall occurred in the higher altitudes, the mountain peaks being deeply covered, and the whole territory around the canyon having from half an inch to two inches of snow.

AIRMEN ARRIVE AT OMAHA

Trip From Chicago Made In Ideal Weather

(BULLETIN)

U. S. AIR MAIL FIELD, FORT CROOK, NEAR OMAHA, Neb.—(By Associated Press)—America's round-the-world army fliers, enroute to the west coast, added about 440 more miles to their long journey today when they flew here from Chicago.

They landed here, about ten miles south of Omaha, at 12:55 p. m. (central standard time), 4 hours and 44 minutes from the time they left Chicago at 8:11 a. m.

U. S. AIR MAIL FIELD, MAYWOOD, Ills. — (By Associated Press)—The army round-the-world fliers hopped off from the air mail field here at 8:11 a. m. on the next stage of the journey, the 440 mile flight to Omaha. Flying conditions were ideal and Lieutenant Lowell Smith, the commander, said he expected to reach Fort Crook Field, Omaha, in about six hours.

Lieutenant Smith was the first to take the air in his flag plane Chicago at 8:11 a. m. After him went Lieutenant Wade in the Boston II at 8:11 1-2. Lieutenant Nelson in the New Orleans was off the ground at 8:12.

The three planes quickly were in formation and at an altitude of about 500 feet headed into the west. They planned a straight airway course to Davenport, Iowa, where the planes will circle once over Davenport and Moline and Rock Island, Ills. They will then pass over Iowa City, Des Moines and thence into the regular air mail route to Omaha.

As the three "Magellans of the air" ascended, hundreds of spectators sent up a rousing cheer. The visibility was so good that the three planes could be seen for miles. The sun glistened off the top of the orange-colored wings as they sped away. Excellent flying weather was reported all the way to Omaha.

The schedule to be followed by the fliers, as tentatively announced calls for the night being spent at Omaha; a hop off to St. Joseph, Mo., Thursday, where only a short stop will be made and a continuation to Muskogee, Okla., to reach there that night. It is planned to leave Muskogee Friday for Dallas.

NEW TRAFFIC LIGHT PLAN IS OFFERED

Ten Overhead Signals To Be Purchased For City

PUBLIC SQUARE TOWER

System To Include Business Section, Bingham Says

Lima contemplates a complete overhead traffic light system for the business district with a centralized control tower on the public square, with 24 hour traffic movement planned under police supervision.

Ten overhead traffic lights simillar to the one in use at Elizabeth and High-sts intersection have been ordered by the city for installation above street intersections where traffic is heavy, according to City Manager C. A. Bingham who, with Police Chief T. A. Lanker, is planning a survey of traffic regulations in other cities for enforcement here.

With the control tower on the public square, four lights are proposed for Elizabeth-st, four for Main-st and two on Union-st. On Elizabeth-st the lights will be placed at North-st, High-st, Market-st and Spring-st. Lights will be placed at the same intersecting streets on Main-st, while on Union-st the lights will be installed at High-st and Market-st intersections.

Centralized traffic control by a patrolman stationed in the tower on the public square promises collective movement of all traffic in one direction at regulated intervals, and hopes are entertained by officials that less police officers will be needed in movement of traffic.

BLOCK STREETS

Traffic officer on 24 hour duty in the traffic tower, under tentative plans outlined by City Manager C. A. Bingham, acts in spreading fire alarms and automatically stops traffic and provides a right-of-way for fire apparatus.

Special fire alarm gongs proposed for the control tower will apprise the officer on duty of a fire. In the tower a four way traffic control switch regulates all traffic lights and flashes the "red" or danger signal on all sides of the lights, stopping traffic and leaving street intersections open.

Manager Bingham announces that the fire alarm system worked with traffic lights has been successful in many of the larger cities in the state, and that the system proposed for Lima is a more elaborate and complete one than used by Dayton, Cleveland, Columbus and other cities.

Installation of the traffic lights promises a police campaign for rigid enforcement of traffic laws as additional officers will be available to check up on violators, according to Manager Bingham who proposes to strictly enforce the "stop" legislation covering street intersections not controlled by overhead traffic lights.

In the protection of school children the city has enlisted the aid of city firemen, whose duties are to establish safety for children at street intersections.

Firemen at Central fire department are watching Union-st intersection of High-st and Central-av intersection of High-st, while Kibby and Union-sts the firemen of Kibby-st station have been on duty since the opening of school.

Firemen, while not invested with police power in making arrests, have been authorized by the city manager to take license numbers of offenders and report them to police, who will make arrests. This system, according to Bingham, has worked so far and expansion of the system with the aid of student police at South and Central High schools is contemplated.

COMMITTEE MEETS TO PROBE REVENUE BUREAU

WASHINGTON — The curtain today went up on the late 1924 session of senatorial inquiries with the reconvening of the senate committee to investigate the bureau of internal revenue.

The carnival of investigations which featured the spring and was brought to an end only with the adjournment of congress in June, is about to be resumed, with the prospect, however, that it will be much milder this session.

JUDGES CHOOSE OHIO PRINCESS FRIDAY

Board Named To Pick Beauty For Big Exposition

Ohio's princess to represent this state at the International Petroleum Exposition at Tulsa, Okla., will be chosen by a board of judges at 10 a. m. Friday.

The judges in this contest will be Judge Phil M. Crow, judge of the Court of Appeals and chief justice of the Courts o Appeals of Ohio; Mrs. Walter S. Jackson, 1007 W. Market-st, and E. E. Bessire, general manager of the Radiant Oil Co.

These judges are disinterested in the contest and contestants. They will choose the winner from the large number of photographs already submitted and those received before midnight Thursday. Their decision shall be final in the matter.

In addition to choosing the winner, the judges will be asked to choose an alternate, the second among the list, who would represent the state in case the winner should be unable to go.

Great interest is being shown in the contest as the closing hour draws near. A flood of pictures should be turned in Thursday. Any photograph mailed and postmarked before midnight Thursday will be considered in the contest if it reaches the Contest Editor before the hour set for the judges to name the winner.

The winner and her chaperone will leave for Tulsa, probably Sunday, Sept. 28, or Monday, Sept. 29. It is necessary that she reach Tulsa not later than noon, October 1.

It is hoped that dozens of additional pictures will be submitted before the contest closes. Lima and vicinity is noted for its pretty girls and any young woman who wishes to enter should not consider it vanity to send in her picture. The trip will be a treat of a lifetime.

The picture of the Wyoming Princess who will go to Tulsa to represent her state is shown herewith. We'll admit she's pretty, but we believe Ohio will be able to send a prettier representative.

Those who do not have any photographs and who wish to enter the contest can have their photograph taken up to Thursday evening and the pictures will be ready for the judges, they being developed and finished Thursday night. Appointments with the staff photographer of The News can be made thru the Contest Editor.

MAN SHADOWED IN ROBBERY

Clues Traced In Holdup Of New York Woman

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — The similiarity between the $50,000 jewel robbery in the home of Miss Edith Bobe, wealthy modiste, and recent "Broadway butterfly killings" has caused the police to throw every available resource of the department into the search for the robbers. They believe the apprehension of the leader of this band will solve the mystery of the killing of Dorothy King and Louise Lawson.

Police have been furnished with a description of one of the men who ransacked Miss Bobe's elaborately furnished apartment after threatening to shoot her escort, Robert L. Hague, wealthy Standard Oil Co. official, if he attempted to interfere.

They were said to be shadowing a man, well known on Broadway, who will be questioned about all three cases if he is apprehended, it was said.

Both Hague and Miss Bobe visited police headquarters and looked at pictures in the rogue's gallery. They were unable to make an identification.

The wealthy modiste's home where the robbery occurred is a four story house in a fashionable neighborhood. The main floor is used as a reception room, kitchen and bar room. The bar room is fitted up with minute attention to detail. Not even the sawdust that graced the floor of the old time saloon is omitted in her quest for "atmosphere." In the rear of the house is an Italian garden carefully planned.

The second floor is used for a living room and music room with great deal of space arranged for dancing. The bed rooms are on the third floor while above that is a shop where 18 girls are employed.

RIGHT TO KILL, WILL BE PLEA

Ohio Man To Seek Freedom On Unwritten Law

CANTON—(By United Press) —The "unwritten law", that it is a husband's right to protect the sanctity of his home and avenge the honor of his wife even to the extent of taking life, will be the plea of Earl Koehler, held here on a charge of slaying Charles Roof.

The case has developed into one of the most interesting in the history of Stark-co. The killing occurred last Friday night when Koehler found Roof with Mrs. Koehler and after shooting him four times, beat his head in with a claw hammer.

Mrs. Koehler, held as a material witness, was offered her freedom but refused to accept, begging that she be held as hostage for her husband's crime.

Not until she was confronted by her husband who was brought from his cell to plead "please, Mary go home like a good girl," would Mrs. Koehler leave the jail.

The whole town of Magnolia, where Koehler lives and where the slaying took place in the Koehler home, has interested itself in the case. At a mass meeting last night several hundred persons signed a petition asking the officials of Stark-co to release Koehler on the grounds that he was merely guarding the sanctity of his home.

SUICIDE PACT SEEN IN DEATH OF GIRL

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. — That a suicide pact was planned by fifteen year old Elizabeth Johnson, whose body was found near Carnegie Lake, Princeton, Sunday, and Harvey Selhavaver, farm hand, discharged by the girl's father and now sought by police, was indicated in the fragments of a letter which police found scattered over the floor of an abandoned cellar hole 75 feet from the spot where the body lay.

"My dear Precious Darling" is the salutation of the letter, which is signed "Your Broken Hearted Lover, H. S." Those fragments which have been pieced together read "It seems to me that the only way out is that which you suggested on the porch last night. If we cannot live together in life let us part together in death."

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (By Associated Press) — Omaha was selected as the 1925 convention city of the American Legion at today's session of the sixth annual convention here.

* * *

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(By Associated Press) — With the annual parade out of the way, organization politics came in for some consideration as delegates entered the third day of the national convention of the American Legion.

Scant attention was given politics previous to the parade as preparations for this pageant — a stirring review of 25,000 men — occupied the delegates' idle moments.

Talk of General Pershing as the successor to National Commander J. R. Quinn continued today but there appeared a deeper current, in evidence since the convention opened, pointing to others as well.

Among those normally familiar with convention politics, the name of James J. Drain of Washington, D. C., is figuring prominently. Many predict a "dark horse" will be chosen.

SECRET TRYST IS HELD

Lad Runs When He Thinks He Hears Parent

An attempt to flee from the father of a 15 year-old girl with whom he is said to have been "keeping company," after both he and the girl had been warned to stay away from each other and were then caught together, resulted disastrously for Chester Morris, 16, 226 N. Pierce-st Tuesday night. He fell over a woodpile while trying to escape and shot himself in the leg with a revolver which, police say, he admitted he had been "packing" for several days.

The lad was standing in the rear of the home of J. C. Fergesen at 737 Oak-st about 10 p. m., talking to Ferguson's daughter, who had been forbidden to keep company with him, when, according to police, he became alarmed when he thought he heard the father emerging from the rear door of the house, and fled.

REVOLVER FIRED

When he started to run he pulled the heavy .38 calibre Barrington-Richardson revolver which he was carrying from his pocket, and immediately afterward crashed into the obstructing woodpile. The gun went off, and a bullet went crashing into his left leg between the knee and the thigh.

Immediately following the accident, an anonymous report was received at police headquarters that someone was being shot in the vicinity of the Ferguson residence and Officer Mike Laughlin answered the call. When Laughlin arrived he found Ferguson ministering to the lad as best he could.

Morris was rushed to the City hospital in the Williams and Davis ambulance. Little could be done for him Tuesday night, but an X-ray which was taken Wednesday morning revealed the bullet lodged in his thigh, and it was removed. Reports from the institution at noon indicated that he is resting easily and his condition is not serious.

The revolver which the lad was carrying was found near the wood pile and was taken to police headquarters. Only one shell was found in the weapon.

21 WORKMEN ARE KILLED IN EXPLOSION

51 TRAPPED IN COAL PIT

Eighteen Are Still Entombed In Wyoming Mine

ESCAPE MADE BY TUNNEL

Recovered Bodies Burned Almost Beyond Recognition

KEMMERER, Wyo.— (By Associated Press) — Rescue parties penetrating the debris-laden workings of the mine of the Kemmerer Coal Co. at Sublet, near here, today had recovered the bodies of 21 miners, victims of yesterday's explosion.

Latest estimates available from unofficial sources placed the number of men still in the mine, at 18, although some figures were higher. Twelve men escaped.

Rescue work went forward rapidly this morning. The rain which prevailed yesterday had stopped and the few men who struggled thru the wreckage hopeful that they would find some of their comrades alive kept at their task with little rest.

Bodies removed from the mine were burned almost beyond recognition, it was said.

The force of the rescue workers was further augmented this morning by the arrival of a mine rescue car with additional apparatus and men from Rock Spring, Wyo.

GREAT EXCITEMENT

Excitement reached fever heat around the mine mouth as the bodies of the dead began to be taken out with hundreds of grief-stricken relatives attempting to identify the charred corpses.

As fast as the bodies are recovered they are being brought to Kemmerer, where two improvised morgues have been set up. Identification is slow as many of the bodies have been mutilated.

The scores of men who worked all night to rescue their comrades continued labor today in a drizzling rain.

Officials of the Kemmerer Coal Company have refused to give out news regarding the accident, declaring all details will have to be carefully verified before any information can be made public.

Many reports are in circulation as to the cause of the explosion. One is that it was caused when a spark flashed as a tool scraped against a side of a coal car.

PORTO RICO TO BUY CATTLE

Consignments of Pure Bred Cattle for T. B. Hospital

HOUSTON, Tex. — Porto Rico plans to import several consignments of American animals for the purpose of improving the Porto Rican breed of cattle, horses, swine, goats, poultry and rabbits.

One consignment consists of 45 head of Texas milch cows which have passed thru various stages of Texas fever and now are believed to be immune from that disease whichis prevalent o nthe island. Eight sires, four Jerseys and four Holsteins, were purchased from the Texas A. and M. college by W. M. Ellison of the staff of the Porto Rican department of agriculture.

A portion of the sires and all of the cows will go to the Porto Rican health department which, among other things, seeks a continuous milk supply for the hospital for tubercular patients at Rio Piedras. Native cows, it seems, give a good quality of milk for a limited time each year, but the supply is short and averages, the government estimates, about a half tea cup full to each inhabitant on the island. The health department also will get one of the sires and the experiment station of the department of agriculture another. The remainder will be used for breeding purposes.

Mr. Ellison was here on his way East to purchase more cattle, including Ayreshires and Guernseys, for shipment to Porto Rico. He also has been commissioned to purchase a purebred Arabian stallion, a number of Nubian goats

Ted intends to return this winter. "Oh, to be back there again with the sun beating down on my back and a cool refreshing glass of lemonade in hand," Ted mused as he planned at the city and predicted cloudy weather for Wednesday night with Thursday fair, with the temperature changed. Word was received Sam Nash, who split his toe several weeks ago. He is to report to his employer next week.

BLACKMAIL PLOT CHARGED

"Ohio Gang" Plans To Sue Him, Wheeler Says

CLEVELAND — (By United Press) — Senator Burton K. Wheeler charged in a statement here today that the Ohio gang, headed by Harry M Daugherty and backed by the Ohio Democratic Committee, are threatening blackmail proceedings against him to intimidate his backers in the presidential campaign.

Wheeler declared he has been informed that a damage suit would be instituted against him when he reached Columbus tomorrow by a person who has made several previous unsuccessful efforts to "blackmail" him.

Effort also are being made by the same interests to induce Howard Smythe, the writer accusing Daugherty in the recent senate investigation, to repudiate his story, Wheeler said.

Wheeler's statement follows:

"Coming into Ohio to start the campaign for the progressive ticket, both Mrs. Wheeler and I are wondering what the Ohio gang headed by Daugherty and ably assisted by the Burns Agency and the Republican national committee, expect to start while we are here.

"We know that Blair Coan, who has been working for the Republican committee, who was sent to Montana with instructions to 'get' Senator Thomas J. Walsh and myself and who in conjunction with the Burns Detective Agency framed the indictment against me in order to put a stop to the investigation, has been trying, thru different methods to get Roxie Stinson to follow in the footsteps of George Remus, the bootlegger now in Atlanta penitentiary, and repudiate her sworn testimony before the committee. We know that Coan, working for the Republican national committee, has been endeavoring to get other witnesses to repudiate the stories, offering inducements to them for so doing.

"We have also been informed that Coan, working in conjunction with Burns, Daugherty and the Republican organization, intends to have a blackmailing suit started against me when I reach Columbus, a suit for damages which every lawyer in Montana and the northwest refused to handle when a similar attempt was made to blackmail me by the same person in the same manner during my campaign for the senate two years ago.

"I refused then to be held up and I shall refuse now. I serve notice on this corrupt gang that it will take more than injunctions, blackmail and framed up indictments to stop me from attempting to drive from public office the crooked Republican officials who are undermining the faith of the people in their government."

ENROUTE WITH JOHN W. DAVIS TO DES MOINES—(By United Press)—A John W. Davis was swinging thru Iowa today on the last lap of his first invasion of the west.

In the two and a half weeks Davis has spent in the west his addresses on the trip have seen him change from a retiring lawyer reluctantly facing his audiences into a militant crusader with a message.

When he speaks to the Iowa farmers tonight on tariff and taxation, Democratic leaders say that his utterances than he did in his utterances htan he did in Bunceton, Mo., where the enthusiasm of the monster meeting seemed to inspire him with a new confidence.

"The west has acted like a tonic on Davis," said Representative Cordell Hull, of Tennessee, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, who is accompanying Davis on the trip.

CHANGE COMES QUICKLY

"I have never seen such a change come over a man in so brief a time. Frankly, when Davis left New York he felt that he was leading a forlorn hope. But he carried on like a good soldier, shouldering the responsibilities that had been thrust upon him by his party.

"Since coming west and getting in contact with the people Davis has grown daily in enthusiasm until today he is a militant crusader for the cause of honest government with an abiding confidence in victory.

"I have watched Davis in his speeches. It has been an amazing study in psychology.

"In every speech his tone has grown bolder and more confident. He no longer says 'If I am elected president.' He says 'I will be elected.'"

Davis has a busy day before him in Des Moines. Immediately upon his arrival he will go to his hotel where he will confer with state leaders. He is scheduled to make a brief speech at luncheon and his main speech at night in the city auditorium.

OHIO BOARD IS CRITICIZED

Findings Made Against Butler-co Agricultural Society

'CASH SPENT RECKLESSLY'

Figures Given in Report of State Examiner

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Directors of the Agricultural Society of Butler-co, were severely criticized for spending money recklessly by State Examiner R. H. Fnith in a report filed with the state bureau of accounting today on his examination of Butler-co offices.

He made a finding for $300 against the directors for one year's rent which it had paid for an office in the Frechtling building. The examiner declares that the Hamilton telephone directory shows that this office is occupied by the Hamilton Sprinkling Co. and that it therefore is "evident that the Hamilton Sprinkling Co. is having its rent paid by the Agricultural Society." The Agricultural Society, he asserts uses an office in the court house.

The examiner also criticizes the Agricultural Society for paying $75 for a marble tablet with names of directors which was erected in the cattle barn, also an expenditure of $72 for badges for the twelve members. He asserts that the directors should be more careful in the expenditure of the society's money as it will have to meet bonds which soon will fall due.

CHILDREN'S HOME INCLUDED

Total findings against various persons and corporations totaled $5,818.65. The largest of these was for $3,953.75 which was made against the Butler County Children's Home, a private institution, in favor of the county. This money was collected from parents of children by the juvenile court and paid to the children's home notwithstanding that the county was paying the home seventy-five cents per day for each child maintained there. The money collected from the parents should have been turned over to the county to reimburse it on this contract price, the examiner says.

The examiner also made findings totaling $600 against four undertakers of the county for money received in burying supposedly indigent persons, whereas those persons left estates ranging from $650 to $7,800, the examiner declares. The undertakers had been paid $100 in each instance from county funds. One of the undertakers against whom a finding for $300 was made has returned $100. Two others have promised to pay back $100 each while no response has been received from the other, the examiner says.

PEACE MEASURE DRAWN UP

Arbitration Proctocol To Be Acted On By League

GENEVA — (By Associated Press)—The draft protocol on arbitration and security framed by Foreign Minister Benes of Czecho-Slovakia, has created a profound impression among the delegates to the League of Nations assembly.

Those who have had the opportunity of studying it, even if they do not immediately accept all the provisions as they stand, have no hesitancy in characterizing the document as a compilation destined perhaps to change world history and direct its course into paths leading to peace.

The delegates remark upon the fact that Dr. Benes found one of his chief sources of inspiration from the United States, for it was an American group headed by Professor James T. Shotwell, General Tasker Bliss and David Hunter Miller, which, dismissing the experts' complicated definitions that led nowhere, got down to the point and described an aggressor state as one which declined the jurisdiction of an arbitral tribunal.

Detailed discussion of the draft protocol clauses is being continued today by the subcommittee.

Meanwhile Geneva awaits without excitement, tho with undoubted interest, some definite initiative from Berlin concerning Germany's application for league membership. The attitude here is unchanged; it is that Germany must make the first step.

GALA EVETN IS PLANNED

Emancipation Day To Be Observed Here Monday

BIG PARADE IS PLANNED

Perry W. Howard To Be Speaker of Day

Plans now under way indicate that Lima will have one of the largest, if not the largest, Emancipation Day celebrations in the state next Monday.

Every colored person in the city is working thru the various churches, fraternal and social organizations to make Lima the center of the observance of the most memorable day in the history of the race.

Invitations are being extended by Rev. L. R. Mitchell and Rev. John Irvin, heads of the general committees for the gala event, to all cities within 100 miles of Lima. It is believed that several thousand visitors will be in the city for the day.

Great interest is developing in the announcement that Perry W. Howard, assistant attorney general of the United States and a leader in politics in Mississippi, will be the main speaker of the day. He is said to be a forceful talker and is one of the leaders of his race.

BIG PARADE

Festivities of the day will start off with a parade composed of floats and delegations from the various fraternal and social societies, the churches, American Legion, business organizations and the Fraternal band. This parade will start from St. Paul's A. M. E. church, Spring and Cole-sts, at 9:30 a. m. and will go to the Lima Driving park by a route to be announced later.

At 10:30 a baseball game between Lima and Paulding will be staged at the driving park. The old fair grounds will be the center of all activities for the day.

After the dinner hour an athletic meet will be held on the half mile track. It will start about 1 p. m. The 100 yard dash, 200 yard dash and the mile relay will be the features with other events planned.

At 2:30 p. m. the main program will be held. This is the time when Perry W. Howard will speak. Other features of this program will be singing by a selected chorus of 50 persons, talks by local persons and visiting ministers and educators.

Arrangements have been made at police headquarters whereby Officers Webb Harrison and Charles Hamilton will be stationed at the driving part to aid in handling the crowd and preventing traffic accidents, it was announced by Dr. J. C. Bradfield, a member of the local comittee, Wednesday.

COAST AIRPLANE LINE LOOMS

Mail-Passenger Service For New Orleans-Cuba

TWO MOTORED CRAFTS

900 Mile Hops Proposed In Tentative Schedule

NEW ORLEANS—(By Associated Press)—Airplane passenger and mail service between New Orleans and Cuba and Mexican Gulf ports as a private enterprise is a subject of discussion here, with many predictions that it is likely to become an accomplished fact in the not distant future.

Suggested terminals would be Tampico, Mexico City via Vera Cruz, Merida, Yucatan via Progreso, and Havana. The type of seaplane believed suitable for the lines—air cruisers such as are used between Florida and Cuba and the Bahamas but equipped with at least two motors—could make the hop from New Orleans to Tampico, 710 miles, in about nine hours. The 900 mile jump to Mexico City via Vera Cruz would require about 14 hours. The Yucatan run of 540 miles would consume about eight hours while the 550 miles to Havana could be covered in approximately the same length of time. One of the suggestions in connection with the Tampico and Vera Cruz service involves a relay at Brownsville, Texas, with planes operating between New Orleans and Brownsville and Brownsville and the South.

AIR SERVICE

Postal officials are authority for the statement that approximately 1,500 pounds of first class mail dispatched from New Orleans to Mexican ports each week for which the government pays 82 cents a pound. Incoming mail from much of the territory is transported free of charge by the steamship companies but it is believed the United States and Mexican governments would agree to pay $1.50 a pound for all first class mail handled by the planes should such a service be established. The revenue derived therefrom, it is estimated, virtually would support a tri-weekly service.

Establishment of regular air service to Mexico recently was the subject of a conference between A. V. Dye, American commercial attache at Mexico City, and George E. McLeod, District Manager of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Subsequently Mr. McLeod conferred with A. E. Pradillo, Foreign Trade Secretary of the New Orleans Association of Commerce. While it is understood nothing tangible resulted, it is declared the subject is in abeyance for only a short time and that the plans will be discussed more fully in the near future.

U. S. EXCLUSION CLAUSE LAW AGAINST JAPANESE HURTS STEAMSHIP LINE

TOKIO—Effects of the Japanese exclusion clause of the new American immigration act are already felt adversely by Japanese steamship companies operating trans-Pacific services, which are now carrying only a small fraction of their former steerage passenger lists. Steerage accommodations of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Toyo Kisen Kaisha and Osaka Shosen Kaisha trans-Pacific liners formerly were almost altogether taken up by Japanese immigrants or Japanese residents of America. The new law has practically ended travel of this class. The N. Y. K.'s Kaga Maru, on a recent voyage from Seattle, carried only one steerage passenger.

In 1923 the three Japanese companies carried 14,733 steerage passengers across the Pacific. this service yielding an important item of income. The loss of the larger part of this income is causing the companies to urge the government to pay them larger subsidies, declaring that without more aid they cannot continue their trans-Pacific services.

AMERICAN PHYSICIANS ENDORSE FRENCH SCIENTIST DISCOVERY FOR REDUCING FAT

DR. J. J. RUDOLPH, Former Health Commissioner Considers "SAN-GRI-NA" a Remarkable and Safe Help for FAT PEOPLE.

Up to now, reducing had been an almost unsolvable problem. It was either a question of losing a few pounds and ruin your health with dangerous drugs or remain fat. Today a French physician of unquestionable reputation has to his credit a discovery called "SAN-GRI-NA," which quickly does away with most obstinate cases of obesity and at the same time improves the health and appearance and rejuvenates the entire system. "I consider 'SAN-GRI-NA' not only a remarkable fat reducer," says Dr. Rudolph former health commissioner, but I advise it as a general tonic and health-builder for fat people." Physicians have used "SAN-GRI-NA" themselves, and have prescribed it to their immediate family and patients, thus proving that it is absolutely harmless and effective. "SAN-GRI-NA" is a small tablet which should be taken three times a day. It does not contain any dangerous drugs, and has been used by the discoverer in his own practice with most remarkable success. It is now recommended and sold in America, by reliable druggists only, with guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded. "SAN-GRI-NA" does not reduce fat people over night. There is no miracle about it. It is a safe, gradual loss of flesh which varies from 4 to 6 pounds a week, leaving the patient stronger and healthier with every pound of fat lost. No flabby tissues or wrinkles will follow the use of "SAN-GRI-NA."

NOTE—Since "SAN-GRI-NA" has been introduced in America, it has created such a sensation that imitations cannot be avoided. If you want results, make sure that YOU ASK AND GET "SAN-GRI-NA." On sale at

Better Times Ahead

The iron and steel industry, which leads the way for all other business activities, is slowly but steadily climbing back up toward fulltime operations.

The gain in pig iron production in August was only 6 per cent over the July output. But it was the first check to the drop that started late in March.

With the national election out of the way, and uncertainty and superstitious public fear allayed, times may boom suddenly. The iron and steel industry not infrequently leaps upward with rather amazing speed. In Aug., 1922, pig iron output had dropped to 1,816,170 tons. In four months it was up past 3,000,000 tons.

That may happen again in iron and steel—and in general business.

Lots of business rainbows in the sky. Election will soon be over. Steel industry on the upgrade. Europe, having finally settled the reparations problem (for a time, at least), should convalesce faster; this, in turn, would stimulate American business.

The farmer is in better shape, his buying power gradually being restored. Business failures recently have been the lowest of the year. Railroad frieght loadings have been running the highest of the year to date.

All these point infallibly to better times ahead.

America went thru severe hard times a few years back. That always occurs after a big war. Here's what happened after the Napoleonic wars and after the Civil War:

War's end brought a boom, followed by depression in which prices dropped. Then came another boom, and prices went up but not quite as high as before. Later things slumped and prices sagged. Then recovery, and so on.

We've been going thru the same process—a post-war boom, depression, another boom or secondary period of inflation, and recently the reaction, downward. The stage again is set for a turn upward.

We'd be better off if we could have good business all the time, instead of booms and depressions alternating. The thing could be arranged—and will be later, when men understand more about controlling the buying power of the dollar, or, in other words, how to stabilize prices.

Business conditions and prices are Siamese twins.

Taking A Chance

Driving your car, you see a train coming. It's a passenger train, but you are sure you can beat it across the tracks. So you take the chance. Likely as not, you cross safely and are quite a distance away when the train thunders past.

But—

Thousands are killed each year at railroad grade crossings, afoot or in autos. Every one of them was sure he could beat the approaching train, except in cases where they were careless and didn't observe the train coming.

Now—

The average fast train passes the grade crossing IN SEVEN SECONDS. Are you really so rushed for time that you can afford to take a chance on your life to save seven seconds? Think it over.

The Tiger's Teeth

To curb the traffic in habit-forming drugs, an international conference will be held in November in Switzerland. The American delegates will strike directly at the heart of the problem. They will urge limitation of the growing of the poppy, cocoa plant and other raw materials that furnish drugs for addicts.

Could any way be more direct and sensible?

It is too direct to suit countries that make big profits out of growing the raw materials. They had the same proposal put up to them a year ago. Result: They're side-stepping talking about curbing manufacture of drugs, appointing committees . . . anything to avoid curtailing the output of raw materials.

As long as the poppy and other raw materials for drugs are grown they'll be made into drugs.

It wouldn't, by the way, be difficult to put on the brakes. The growing of raw materials for drugs is a highly organized industry. Opium farming is a common occupation in the orient.

Curbing murder is a problem strikingly similar to curbing the drug traffic. As long as pistols are manufactured and sold by mail to anyone with the price, pistols will be used to kill.

Local or state regulations, such as compelling registration and police permits for revolver purchase and possession, are easily frustrated by buying from a mail order house that sells concealable firearms.

It's a problem in interstate commerce and it should be ended by the proper interstate agency—a national law.

There's an organized hue and cry against this proposal. Quite naturally, for money's to be made in the manufacture and sale, all along the line.

The mainstay of the propaganda is that a ban on sale of pistols except to officers of the law would disarm the law-abiding householder. Nonsense! He could protect his home with a rifle or sawed-off shotgun—which cannot be carried concealed thru the streets by murderers and thieves.

The quickest way to control anything is to abolish its existence. Stop making pistols and you stop murder by pistol. Stop growing opium, etc., except enough for legitimate medical purposes, and you stop the drug traffic.

The tiger will bite as long as he has teeth. Why waste time trying to muzzle him?

Smithy

Wall Street Journal laments the passing of smiths. The stamping press has crowded out the silversmith. The blacksmith under the spreading chestnut tree now runs a garage. Even the locksmith is a vanishing institution.

All this is typical of the day. The machine, clanking and relentless, is displacing nearly everything romantic or picturesque. Progress is many things, including dull.

THE FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

DISCOURAGED

I was discouraged, and I bowed
My head and sought to shun the crowd
And fling my care away;
Thought I: "They laughingly drink their wine
And have no heavy grief like mine,
No sorrows, night or day."

I stood upon the curb of life
And watched them pass, the smiling wife,
Her husband at her side;
Mothers and children trooping by,
It seemed in all the world that I
Alone was heavy-eyed.

They know not what it means to weep,
Said I: "They walk with faith and hope
Where I can only creep and grope,
They laugh at toil and care;
Not one of them has ever felt
The cruel storms of trouble pelt,
None has a scar to wear."

"Look closer," said a voice within,
These, too, have seen pale death come in,
These, too have loved and lost!
These, too, have seen their hopes go down;
One passes now, too great to frown,
Whose soul is tempest tossed."

I looked, and near a cripple came,
His eyes with joy of life aflame,
No hint of pain he gave,
"If he who suffers all the while
Has courage in his heart to smile
Can you not be as brave?"

"None passes by your door today
Who has not trod a rugged way
Or felt the lash of fate;
All these who seem so free from woe
Have cruel scars they do not show,
Can you not be as great?"

A THOUGHT

So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.—Ps. 90:12.

I wasted time, and now doth time waste me.—Shakespeare.

Rheumatism

"Yes! it's all gone."

DO NOT close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. You can get rid of your rheumatism by building up your blood power. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

LIMA NEWS HEALTH SERVICE

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

CALCIUM LACTATE

The benefit derived from improved calcium (lime) metabolism in cases of asthma, hyperesthetic rhinitis, and hay fever, is receiving more and more recognition. As I have explained in former talks, scientific investigations of the blood have shown that there is lowered calcium content in these disease conditions. It is not always enough, however, to take more calcium in food or in medicine. Altho that does seem to bring considerable relief in many cases, it is probable that there is some peculiar deficiency in the capacity to metabolize or utilize calcium, in most such cases, and this functional deficiency must be taken into account. Physiology teaches that the parathyroid gland controls in some way the metabolism of calcium in the system. Experience teaches that the administration of small doses of parathyroid extract along with some form of calcium brings about improvement in the disease mentioned when perhaps calcium alone fails. And as the thyroid and parathyroid functions are intimately related, some physicians maintain that minute doses of thyroid extract in conjunction with calcium treatment will accomplish the same purpose.

A British physician reported last year that he was able to obtain excellent results in the treatment of another disease which is characterized, like those mentioned, with more or less periodic seizures, with calcium lactate. At the first warning of the approaching attack of migraine (periodic sick headache) the victim takes 20 grains of calcium lactate. One subject to migraine should keep on hand some tablets of calcium lactate, which should be fresh. It does not cure migraine, but it often does prevent the attack.

The dosage of calcium advisable for the hay fever, asthma or hyperesthetic rhinitis subject is smaller, say five grains, but this should be taken three times a day over a period of two or three months in the year.

What amount or form of parathyroid or thyroid gland extract one should take along with the calcium lactate is a question for the medical adviser to consider. But the experiment of taking calcium lactate alone is without any risk, at any rate, whether it does any good or not.

Occasionally a dose of calcium lactate in tablet form proves irritating to the stomach. If so, it should be broken up to a powder and taken in about a glassful of water. The best time to take it is after meals.

In the judgment of so good an authority as Professor Henry C. Sherman of Columbia university the ordinary mixed diet of Americans in cities and towns is probably more often deficient in calcium than in any other chemical element. That fact may have some bearing on the prevalence of the diseases mentioned. This is merely by conjunction. Normally, about three pounds of calcium enters into the constructure of the human body.

Foods rich in calcium and perhaps not freely enough used in the average American urban household are cheese (all kinds,) fresh milk, egg (the yolk particularly,) dried beans, almonds, walnuts, peanuts, cabbage, carrots, oranges, oatmeal, prunes, unmilled wheat, wheat bran.

There is a standing request for your great aid in every case where oppressed humanity cries out because of injustice. I welcome your assistance in this case in behalf of justice and humanity and shall withhold mailing the petition to the governor until I hear from you."

Swanson said he expected to have 25,000 residents of Chicago and Cook-co sign the petition. Today he received the copy of a letter sent to Governor Small by the men's bible class of the Methodist Church of Greenwood, Indiana. The letter follows.

"Believing thoroly that there should be no discrimination in criminal cases in this country in favor of wealth and that even the hint of such a condition should be promptly and fearlessly met, we, the men of the Methodist church at Greenwood, Ind., earnestly solicit clemency at your hands for Bernard Grant."

This resolution was adopted by unanimous vote, the letter stated.

Pastors of Chicago are encourging Swanson to carry on the fight.

Mayor Dever, of Chicago, has sent a pardon resolution to the council asking that it be adopted and sent to Governor Small.

In campaigns of the past, in the senate and on the Chautauqua platform the Wisconsin Senator has usually spoken without a manuscript or even notes. He familiarized himself thoroly with his subject, then spoke extemporaneously, as a rule, for two or more hours at a stretch.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

I have been reading your letters in the paper and it seems as tho you give very good advice to the young folks so as I am between two fires and really need advice, I will write you.

I have been going with a girl for about four months and really love her and she is the only girl I ever did love. But she has a cousin that I am acquainted with and who wants me to elope with her and I told her I would let her know next Wednesday evening but I don't care for her at all. What would be your advice in this case?

This girl is only 16 years old and altho she is very nice, but not as fair to me as the other girl.

Please advise in this case. I am about five feet four inches in height, have rather sandy complexion, light brown hair, blue eyes and a large nose. What color suit would I look best in? What is good for pimples on the face?

I am 21 years old and weigh 160 pounds. Am I over or under weight?

Do you think I am a dummy or a dumbbell? How is my scribbling? May I write again some time? Thanking you very much for your answer, I remain as ever, your humble friend,

HAY SEED.

Why should you consider marrying a girl you don't love, Hay Seed, merely because she is a cousin to the girl you do love? How silly of you to talk of "eloping" with her! If you care for the other girl, it is to her that you should show kindnesses and be with when she gives her consent. I don't think the cousin worth bothering with, my friend.

I should think a navy blue suit would be becoming or a light gray one. Carbolic soap is excellent for pimples. Use this with hot water and it will greatly help the condition of your skin. You will also find that the following lotion is good: 5 ounces of orange flower water; 5 ounces rose water; 1 teaspoonful of tincture camphor and 1 teaspoonful powdered sulphur. Mix the camphor and sulphur and then add the others. Use often.

You are about 20 pounds over weight.

No, I don't think you are a dumbell, Hayseed, but I'm hoping you aren't going to elope with the young cousin, are you? Yes, do write again. I enjoyed your letter.

Who's Boss, You or Your Stomach

Does your stomach tell you what to eat? Do you have to avoid the food you like best because your stomach rebels? Do even the simplest foods ... to alarm and distress you?

Here is help and good news for you. Jaques' Capsules for good digestion bring relief a new way—assist the stomach in a natural manner, tone up the entire digestive system, prevent gas and distress. Quickly put to route cases of taken regularly, chronic cases soon yield to their helpful medicines. Easy and pleasant to take—quick to work. One or two with a swallow of water. That's all. Indigestion and ... go at once. You'll enjoy the foods you like best and have that happy "comfort within" feeling. Ask your friend the druggist. adv.

DITCH CONFERENCE HELD BY COMMISSIONERS HERE

Allen-co county commissioners and the county board of Putnam-co met at Ottawa Wednesday to view a joint county ditch, which drains portions of both counties. Orders to proceed with the improvement were issued by the two boards as a result of the inspection.

SOLVED THE PROBLEM

"I was almost distracted with stomach trouble, gas and colic attacks and didn't know what to do. I had tried everything I heard of, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend told me about Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and it has solved the problem, as I can now eat anything and have no distress." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. BRIDGE, ROAD TO BE REPAIRED

County To Receive Bids On Jobs This Month

Bids for making a 1,000 yard fill on the Gratz-rd in Richland-tp, at an estimated cost of not more than $188.40, will be received by the county commissioners on Sept. 29, it was announced in advertisements of the sale of the work posted Wednesday.

The job requires excavating higher portions of the road, and filling a low swale that is always impassable in wet weather. When the fill is made the surface will be stoned.

Commissioners are also asking for bids on the cost of constructing a concrete abutment on the Winegardner bridge in Auglaize-tp. The bids will be received on Sept. 29.

Cost of the improvement is estimated at $659.58, according to an estimate submitted by County Surveyor Ed. Smith. The old abutment at the east end of the bridge has deteriorated and must be replaced, Smith declared in his report.

For beauty you fail to get
By Edna Wallace Hopper

I am not a cosmetic maker, not a beauty expert. My work is on the stage and screen. But I have had advantages which most girls and women lack. I had a rich, ambitious mother who took me in a world-search for the utmost in beauty helps. Then when I became a famous beauty, every great scientist who made a discovery sent it at once to me.

Edna Wallace Hopper

Now I wish all girls and women to share that good fortune with me. I found helps which multiplied my beauty, and which have kept my youthful beauty to my grand old age. And great experts tell me that every woman can in like ways secure like results.

So I am placing these helps, which I spent a lifetime in finding, at every woman's call. All druggists and toilet counters now supply them. But with each comes a guarantee. I instruct every dealer to return the money to anyone disappointed, and charge the amount to me.

Edna Wallace Hopper

My marvelous complexion is largely due to a super-cream. It combines the products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that modern science knows to foster, feed and protect the skin. I use it as a night cream, also daytime as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. And my baby skin, at my age, shows how much it means to women. No woman I have ever met has ever found a cream to compare.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream is now supplied by all druggists and toilet counters at 60c per jar and 35c per tube. But I shall be glad to send a free sample, if you wish. Just mail the coupon for it, and my Beauty Book will come with it.

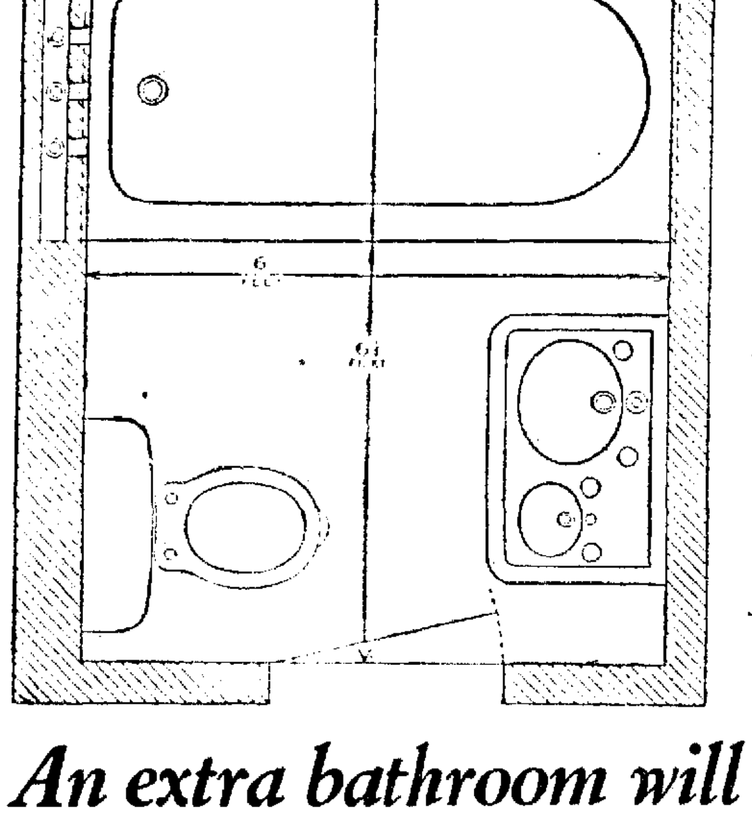
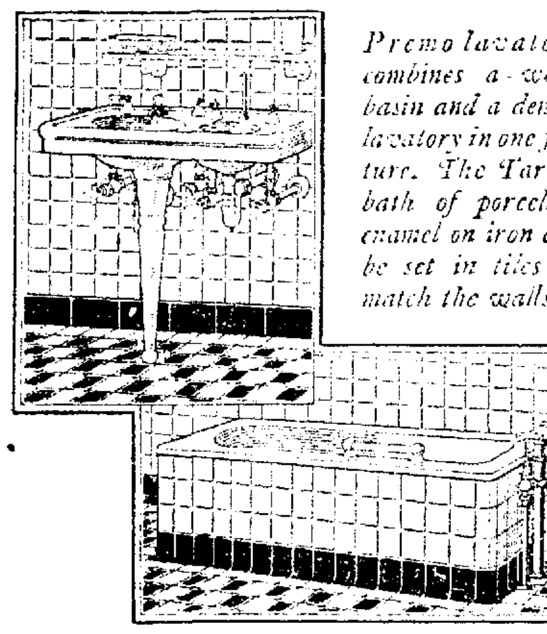
Trade an old clothes closet for a new bathroom





Premo lavatory combines a wash basin and a dental lavatory in one fixture. The Tarnia bath of porcelain enamel on iron can be set in tiles to match the walls.

Here is a practical bathroom plan which groups four Crane fixtures in a space only six by six and one-half feet. There is room in your home for this extra necessity. Look over your spare closet space. See where this bathroom can be fitted up.

An extra bathroom will add more to home than anything else the same money will buy

There are thousands of fine old homes which need only another bathroom, equipped with modern fixtures, to make them as comfortable and convenient as new houses would be.

Built when space was less costly, nearly all of these older homes—and many new ones—have odd corners, large closets or tiny spare rooms which can be turned into inviting extra bathrooms at small expense. A dark, inside room can be used as well as day-lighted space.

Your plumbing contractor can aid you in finding this unused space. He will suggest the right fixtures to meet your needs, and will show you how to arrange them to the best advantage in the room at your command.

Where room is limited, there are Crane fixtures designed to economize space without sacrificing comfort. For example, the Premo lavatory, which is illustrated above, combines a standard wash basin with a dental lavatory, yet it measures only 20 by 30 inches over all.

The new Tarnia bath of cream-white enamel on iron is supplied in three sizes, 5, 5½ and 6 feet in length. By installing only a Crane shower and lavatory, even a clothes closet can be transformed into a convenient extra bathroom.

Visit the Crane Exhibit Rooms and let us show you our wide variety of plumbing and heating fixtures, in sizes to fit almost any space at prices that bring them within reach of all.

With ROOSEVELT IN AFRICA

by W. Robert Foran

© 1924 NEA Service Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

[illegible] newspaper correspondent, accompanies the Theodore Roosevelt expedition into Africa in 1909. They arrive at Mombasa, the [illegible] of British East Africa," and [illegible] the railroad journey to the [illegible] camp on the game-crowded [illegible] Plains, 288 miles [illegible]. With Colonel Roosevelt [illegible], Kermit, and three [illegible] of his staff—[illegible] Mearns, Edmund Heller [illegible] J. [illegible] Loring.

[illegible] good luck comes to the [illegible] Colonel Roosevelt and Kermit during the first two weeks of [illegible]. At Nairobi a reception [illegible] in honor of Colonel [illegible] Sir Frederick Jackson, [illegible] governor. While Roosevelt and Kermit are mingling with the guests Foran goes to look for [illegible] naturalists.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

They were nowhere to be seen [illegible] ball-room, so I wandered [illegible] the beautiful gardens that surround the official residence of [illegible]. I knew that they would [illegible] probably be found searching for the birds and small mammals. My diagnosis was quite correct. They were finally discovered enjoying the still night and eagerly hunting for specimens for their collection. Social functions bored them; but natural history did not. They never allowed any opportunity to [illegible] new species to escape them.

Mearns was standing beneath a big tree trying to catch the dulcet notes of birds who had been awakened by the military band. Heller and Loring were intently engaged upon catching some of [illegible] bats which flitted hither and thither in the moonlit ground of Government House. The [illegible] evening clothes of civilization made their efforts appear somewhat incongruous, perhaps, but neither scientist appeared to be aware of the fact.

On another night, the Roosevelts accompanied the Government House party to an amateur performance of the "Nairobi Follies," in the Railroad Institute in the center of the town. The program consisted of two parts—the first, a minstrel entertainment with topical songs, all written by local officers of the government, with many humorous allusions to the guest of honor; and second, a sketch entitled "Bluebeard in East Africa," which had been written by local dramatists. Theodore Roosevelt's hearty laugh was frequently heard well above that of the remainder of the audience, and he appeared particularly to enjoy the many topical songs that related to himself.

Two of the songs are well worth reproducing. The words were written by Benjamin Eastwood, the chief auditor of the Uganda Railroad, in conjunction with A. J. Monson, the chief secretary of the government.

The first one to evoke Theodore Roosevelt's laughter, was sung to the tune of "A Gay Tomtit" from the "Geisha" and was entitled "Felis Leo." The words were as follows:

A lion lurked in his lonely lair,
A[illegible] lions do.
[illegible] to be where he could get a share
Of a [illegible] little buck, with a stroke [illegible]
In our wonderful nature's zoo.
He [illegible] beside he nightly fed
[illegible] zebra or hartebeeste in[illegible]
"There isn't a scrap of doubt," said he,
"This diet's exceedingly good for me.
"For I grow fat, fat, fatter,
"What on earth does it mat, mat, matter,
"If it's true that I creep on the beasts in their sleep,
"Makes the poor things scat, scat, scatter?"
He hunted game in the moonlight bright,
With never a thought of harm;
But he got quite a fright, when there hove in sight
Teddy armed to the teeth with a knife and sheath,
And a rifle beneath his arm.
The Colonel plugged him with a laugh,
While Kermit took his photograph,
Said he, "These Wall Street boys would cry—
"If they knew how near I'd been to die.
"Oh this country's bull, bull, bully
"I've enjoyed it full, full, fully,
"For it euchres the best they can show in the west,
"That's so wild and wool, wool, woolly!"

Another topical song that evening had reference to the general comment locally at the well-aired disappointment of some visiting members of the American press at not having been able to accompany the Roosevelts on their hunting trips.

KERMIT AND COLONEL ROOSEVELT — FELLOW SPORTSMEN.

This particular song was entitled "B. E. A. (with apologies to Rudyard Kipling)" and was rendered to the tune of "Mandalay." The words of the chorus follow:

Yes he shut out all the press
And he left them there to guess.
They raved, and growled, and grumbled,
They were left in such a mess.

But that's all passed and done with,
For they were not far away;
And their news is scattered broadcast
Over all the world today.
Still he sent in news one Tuesday—
It is nice to be polite—
But the New York papers had it
On the previous Sunday night.

Oh! it really was a frost,
As one finds it to one's cost
If one tries to balk the press-men,
One is very often lost!

This song was as much enjoyed by the Roosevelts, father and son, the newspaper men present.

The Roosevelts, father and son, were the guests of the governor for the first three days while in Nairobi, and then they moved over to McMillan's town house to join the three naturalists and "R. J." It was a fine stone building standing in extensive and pretty grounds. It was most comfortably furnished, and provided exceptionally roomy quarters for all of the party.

In between the social rounds of gaiety, Colonel Roosevelt worked industriously on his book about his adventures and was able, in the peace of rural Parklands—the growing suburb of Nairobi—to bring upto date all his articles, which task would have been a physical impossibility while on safari.

Frequently during those crowded days, I was invited to lunch or dine with the Roosevelts, and the general topic of conversation was always concerned with the game of East Africa or the immense future possibilities of the country.

One evening, after dinner, Theodore Roosevelt was discussing with Hinde, the commissioner of the Ukamba province, the all-important question of immigration to East Africa.

"I firmly believe in the future of this great country for European settlement," asserted Roosevelt, with marked emphasis. "You have regions that are best suited to the requirements of white men; others that are only suitable for Indians and Africans. It is a matter purely of climatic conditions. In some areas the whites can live and settle permanently, as in our own west; but in others—especially the coastal regions—the climate is such that only natives of India or Africa can hope to survive."

"The government of East Africa has set apart the highland belt for white settlement ever since they commenced to invite Europeans to settle here, in 1903," said Hinde.

"And that is a very wise policy," exclaimed Roosevelt, as he gave point to his assertion with a thump of his fist on the table. "There can be no possible question about its wisdom. Every possible encouragement should be offered to Europeans to come out here, take up the land and develop it. Non-white people should be encouraged equally, but not to settle where there is any possibility for them to come into open rivalry with the Europeans."

On the afternoon of Sunday, May 30, Colonel Roosevelt took Kermit, Dawson and myself out to visit the Roman Catholic mission at Kikayu. It is conducted by the French fathers, and is situated some three miles outside of Parklands, suburb of Nairobi.

We spent a very interesting hour or so at the mission, and were taken all over the estate and buildings by the good fathers in charge. There was a convent school attached to the mission, and Colonel Roosevelt appeared to be much interested in the fact that amongst the pupils who were the children of European settlers—were a few Parsi children. They were the only exception to the rule that it was a school for European children only. The mission also owned a splendid coffee estate—they had been the pioneers in coffee-growing in East Africa—the trees of which were most prolific in their yield of berries.

As we drove back to Nairobi in the cool of the evening, I asked Colonel Roosevelt what had been his impressions.

"I must confess to great admiration for the work of all missions in Africa," he said, with conviction in his tones. "There is something very fine in the manner they all quietly and unobtrusively go to work, without impressing their convictions and religion too persistently upon the natives of the country in which they labor.

"I like to see them teach the natives useful arts and crafts, such as we have just witnessed. Eventually the natives will realize that these missionaries are wise and good people; and then they will be ready to follow them. Their progress must be slow; but if it is slow, it is also sure. That is the most lasting form of progress."

CHAPTER VI

Pioneers of Two Continents

We had left Nairobi at mid-day on June 2nd by special train for Kijabe, from whence the Roosevelts would start forth on their first prolonged safari into the wilds of Africa. We arrived at our destination just before sunset.

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM SALLY ATHERTON TO BEATRICE GRIMSHAW SUMMERS

DEAR BEE:

I was so glad to get your letter and know that you are so happy in your new home. Of course you would be happy during your honeymoon. I remember that glorious first few months with Sam, after our marriage, and I never expect to experience such delirious happiness.

At first, to some home from the office and hurry to get some kind of a pickup dinner was a joy, especially as Sam was always hanging around the kitchen making love to me and clumsily trying to help. But after a little I found my poor physical machinery rebelled at the overhours it was made to work. It did not take into any consideration that the extra time was given to labor of love. Labor was labor to it, and nothing else.

More and more often I got the dinner in paper bags and receptacles from the delicatessen on my way home. More and more often I neglected even to remove the contents of these paper bags to some of my dainty china. More and more often we ate a catch-as-catch-can dinner from these same paper bags, until Sam rebelled at having to get his ham and potato salad and other time-honored dainties of the hurried housewife from the corner grocery.

Then we tried going out for our dinners, but after reaching home we found usually we were too tired to do this. In a little while I was eating my paper bag dinner in solitary state and usually adding to it the salt of my tears, while Sam, on a plea of business, stayed down town until eight o'clock or after, and he usually came home with a liquor-laden breath.

Of course, this will never happen to you, Bee, ensconced in your beautiful hilltop home with nothing to do except engage in the delightful time of spending five thousand dollars for beautiful thing to make your home more beautiful.

Yes, I know, dear Bee, what I have just written sounds envious and catty, but you know I always was catty, and frequently envious.

I want you to know, however, that I would not take from you one of your blessings. You deserve everything good that can be given you, and I would have you keep them all your life. I'm just trying to tell you that in whatever environment one is placed, after a time it looks to me as though the secret orchard of somebody else which lies just beyond always intrigues one's fancy. That secret orchard usually bears gnarled and bitter fruit and while we are outside of it, the peaches and apples and pears seem luscious.

Like all the rest of the people outside of Hollywood, I am intensely interested in its life, and I am glad I shall know it now from first hand. Some day I may be coming out there for a vacation. You know I have always been more or less a gypsy, and the California trail has always beckoned.

Lou asked me to tell you about Leslie. I know really nothing, except that she is staying at her father's home where he is, as you know quite ill. He is getting better, however.

I am pretty sure that Mr. Prescott and Leslie have had some sort of a quarrel, for no letters have come to the office for Mr. Prescott with her handwriting upon them since she has been away. During the last week, however, he received a telegram from Mrs. Hamilton telling him his father-in-law wanted to see him, and to come and bring the baby.

Mr. Prescott, with the silly stubbornness of a small boy, insisted he could not leave his business, but I noticed after receiving a long letter with Mrs. Hamilton's return adress upon it, he was much troubled over something.

AMERICAN POLO TEAM EASILY TAKES SECOND

The American polo team won the second and deciding game against the Britishers Tuesday, by 14 to 5, and thereby clinched the international title and cup, which was immediately presented to them by Major Gen. Robert Lee Bullard.

There was very little difference so far as the game was concerned with that of Saturday, the Yankees simply outplaying their old time foes by superior polo. There were times when the visitors showed much cleverness, but in the whole the American team simply out gamed and out rode the visitors.

The center of attraction was the Prince of Wales, who was on hand, and expressed himself in very dubious terms regarding the British team. The gang stood on their toes to get a glance at the blue suit and brown suede shoes, which have become the fashion since H. R. H. arrived.

Only one incident marred the day and that was trivial. In the eighth chukker, Lieut. Col. T. P. Melville, in place of Maj. T. W. Kirkwood at No. 1, for the British team, crashed into an American pony, while making a turn and badly bruised his right arm. He resumed play after treatment.

AS A MATTER OF FACT

Being a Criticism of the Just and the Unjust In the World of Professional and Amateur Sports

BY HARRY BRADBURY

Strange ending to an otherwise prosperous season, all things considered, so far as the Ohio-Indiana league is concerned. An immense amount of rivalry all thru, every team intent on beating Lima, but failing to stick the season out, if it was necessary to play the local team; willing and anxious to play those particular teams which they selected, but with a couple of exceptions, Delphos and New Bremen, who are to be highly commended for their sportsmenlike attitude, would play none others, and so Lima at the top of the heap, wins the pennant in the last couple of games without opposition. And then New Bremen, [illegible]

[illegible]

WHAT WAPAK THINKS

[illegible] officials of the Wapak team were present at the last meeting of the [illegible], and made the fact very plain that they were at the end of their string; that the league had not been treating them right; that they had more games away from home than any other team, if they did help make the schedule, and stated that they absolutely would not put their hands down in their pockets for another cent to pay the expenses of their team, and vowed that the good citizens of Wapakoneta would not support it. They consented, however to play a couple of games near home and then they would quit. They did this and the league dropped them good naturedly from all obligations. In the mean time good old sport "Lefty" Houtz gave Manager Halloran to understand that he would like to pick the team up where the management had dropped them, and play a game or two with Lima. Halloran in distinction to his good nature arranged a game to be played Sunday Sept. 14 and aside from giving the usual guarantee, which had been agreed upon by the whole league, consented to raise this amount $50.00. Hearing of the split factions supposed to control the Wapak team, Halloran visited with them and was given to understand that "Lefty" Houtz had nothing to do with the team, and in conversation with that gentleman the same information was [illegible] concerning [illegible] opposite [illegible]. Halloran figured that the best thing to do was [illegible] to play, if he wanted to play at all and so [illegible] some other team and the result was that he secured Delphos.

STEPPING ON THE CAT'S TAIL

"Lefty" Houtz is naturally a bit sore at the Lima management. But the whole baseball officials of Wapak have stepped on the cat's tail, and it will result that the local management will not recognize the Wapak team in the future. "Lefty" is sore and so are a large number of the good citizens of old Auglaize county. For a number of years they gave real battle to Lima boys on the diamond, but lately they have ceased to be an attraction and have dwindled away as a power in baseball in this part of Ohio; just a memory of the good old days. And Lima believes they have lost their usefulness, and with this goes up a roar from the ardent fans who still remain firm and loyal, and it is these few who nudge New Bremen, wink and whisper "We're with you. Go in and beat Lima and our wrongs will all be righted."

So in these diamond battles which are on the tapis there is far more than shows on the surface. It's Auglaize and Shelby counties pitted with all the sporting jealousy the most ardent fan is possessed to beat Lima; poor little Lima, and still like the legion of old, Halloran, and the boy who won the Ohio-Indiana pennant, not against Wapakoneta or the other Ohio towns, but struggled with the representatives from Indiana, tooth and nail, are looking for the hosts of baseball in Lima to back them up, and then quoting Halloran: "We'll win." And they will win.

Kiwanis Pace Big Event At Toledo

TOLEDO — The Kiwanis pace with a purse of $1,000 is the feature event of the third day's Grand Circuit program which will be raced here today. A fine field of nine pacers are entered in the event. The Toledo Blade Trot, with a $3,000 purse is second in importance. The 2:09 trot and the 2:08 pace are the other events on the card. Probable showers are forecast and unless heavy rain falls the track will be in bitumen fast.

WATCHING THE SCORE BOARD

(United Press)

YESTERDAY'S HERO—Jim Bottomley, Cardinal first baseman, who smashed in 12 of his team's 17 runs establishing a new major league record. Bottomley got six hits, two of which were homers. The Cardinals had little difficulty in defeating the Dodgers 17 to 3, pushing them a little farther away from the league leadership.

The Senators went into the lead in the American League by defeating Cleveland 6 to 2 and the Yanks remained idle, owing to rain at St. Louis.

The Giants leaped farther into the lead in the National by splitting a pair of games with Cincinnati while Brooklyn was losing. McQuillan won the first game for the McGraw men 5 to 1, while Meys let down the Giants in the second, 3 to 1.

The Pirates broke even in a double bill with Philadelphia, losing the first 6 to 5 and winning the second 13 to 7.

The Cubs went into fourth place in the National League by winning a double header from Boston, 8 to 3 and 4 to 2.

Earl Sheeley tripled in the first inning with the bases clogged and the White Sox breezed along to an 8 to 1 victory over the Red Sox.

Detroit took a vicious trouncing from the Athletics, 14 to 2.

Many Expert Throwers In Tourney

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — One hundred and twelve players representing a dozen states were entered in the 1924 National Horseshoe Tourney which opened here Tuesday.

Scheduled features were matches between Frank Jackson, four times world's champion, and his 18 year old protege "Putt" Mossman, Eldora, Iowa, farmer, and Iowa state champion, and Mrs. C. A. Lanham, of Bloomington, Ills., women's world champion, and Mrs. J. R. Mathews, the first woman to win a national horseshoe title.

BOWLING

With the waning of summer sports, comes thoughts of winter games. Lima likes bowling and already organizations are being formed for fall and winter. The business men of the Y. M. C. A. announce the following teams. They will meet thruout the fall and winter at the "Y" alleys on Tuesday and Thursday of each week:

Team No. 1—Al Miller, captain; Ira Schaffer, Dr. J. J. Sutter, Paul W. Crawford.

Team No. 2—Dr. Oliver Steiner, captain; Charles Preston, T. C. Cunningham, W. D. Kirk.

Team No. 3—G. A. Schriever, captain; Dr. J. E. Dexter, C. J. Landfair and Dr. E. K. Hedges.

Team No. 4—R. C. Massler, captain; P. M. Driver, L. F. Mertz and Dr. Frank Steiner.

THE MEEK AND LOWLY STOP PROUD VICTORS

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — A new act in baseball's big revue promises to sustain interest until the final curtain of the season.

"The dance of the turning worms" was presented yesterday by a chorus which included the Cardinals, Reds, Phillies and Athletics. The Browns and Indians were also billed for the act but the former were delayed by rain and the latter missed their cue.

The Cardinals scored the biggest hit of the day by smothering Brooklyn under a 17 to 3 score which dragged the Robins another half game away from the Giants and nearer the Pirates. Jim Bottomley carried off starring honors with six consecutive hits, including two home runs in succession and established what is thought to be a modern major league record by driving in 12 runs.

Cincinnati collaborated by splitting a double header with the Giants, losing the first game 5 to 1, and winning the second, 3 to 1.

THE LOWLY PHILS TURN

The "lowly Phils" arose to divide a double bill with the Pirates. One big inning in which Cooper was touched for 7 hits and six runs lost the first game 6 to 5 for the Corsairs who came back strongly to win the second, 13 to 7. Glen Wright made eight consecutive hits in both contests.

As a result of the surprise party, the parade of the leaders in the National League was held up. The Giants are still two and one half games ahead of the Pirates who are now only one game behind Brooklyn.

YANKS NEEDED UMBRELLAS

While the Yankees watched the rain at St. Louis, Washington broke the tie for first place and took a half game lead in the race by beating Cleveland 6 to 2. In a pitching duel with Zachary, Coveleskie weakened in the eighth allowing five hits and five runs.

Eddie Rommel held Detroit to seven hits while his mates batted out a 14 to 2 Athletic victory which shoved the Tigers five games behind the leaders and virtually out of the race.

WORLD SERIES OCT. 2

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK — (By United Press) — Arrangements for the 1924 world's series, such as can be undertaken before the winning teams are known will be made here Sunday at a meeting of the presidents of the six contending clubs and Commissioner Landis.

The National League season closes September 29 and the American League schedule the following day.

The series should hardly be started without one day of rest. It is unlikely the classic will start before October 2.

To avoid a gamble with treacherous October weather the games will be played as successively as conditions will permit. If Detroit does not play the American League end of the series the team could make overnight jumps and play on successive days. Under the present arrangement four games out of seven to win the series, the strain of traveling is not like it used to be when the nine games plan prevailed.

In calling the meeting of the contending club owners, Commissioner Landis again failed to include an invitation to the presidents of the two leagues, John A. Heydler and Ban Johnson. The critics, remembering the wrath that Ban Johnson went into last year when he was overlooked are looking to another warm winter of politics and a revival of the Landis-Johnson feud.

HARRIS TALKS

[illegible]

"We have [illegible] I believe the spirit of our club is just a little better than that of the Yankees.

"Certainly none of New York's pitchers are as good as Walter Johnson, and we are much better fortified with reserve pitching.

"We are striving for something that is new to Washington. The Yankees have won the championship three times and they do not get the thrill out of it that we do.

"We also have another incentive to win a pennant for the sake of Walter Johnson. We want him to close his major league baseball career on a championship team."

O'Brien's Minstrels

"Sugarfoot" Gaffney will again be the featured comedian with the Neil O'Brien minstrels when they appear at the Faurot Opera house next week for three performances. The organization is booked to appear Monday and Tuesday nights with a matinee Tuesday afternoon.

Gaffney was the hit of the show last year and according to reports from cities where he has appeared is even better than before. Other stars in the organization are Neil O'Brien, Billy Beard, Tex Hendrix, Joe McCoys and a host of well known minstrel entertainers.

Seat sale for the three performances will open Thursday at the Faurot. The usual parade and band concerts will continue to be a feature of the presentation, it is announced.

Farnum At Quilna

William Farnum makes his debut as a Paramount star in "The Man Who Fights Alone," a fighting story of the great outdoors, which comes to the Quilna Thursday for a three day stay.

You have heard a lot about miracles that have been performed by love, but sometimes the terrific emotional power of hate can do things even more startling. In this story you will see a fine strong man who becomes warped in soul and body by a strange combination of circumstances, in which all the people he loves best—his wife, child and best friend—seem to become his enemies.

The struggle between love and hate in his soul results in a gripping drama that has been brought to the screen in a series of tense situations. It is heralded as a story that is different from the usual run of westerns and Farnum as the husband is said to have the strongest part he had portrayed since "The Spoilers."

His supporting cast includes Lois Wilson, Edward Horton, Lionel Belmore and Dawn O'Day.

At The Orpheum

"Mr. Plaster of Paris" will be the featured offering at the New Orpheum theatre beginning Thursday matinee. This will succeed "Bride and Groom" to be seen for the final times Wednesday. The Jim Jam Jems company is giving very pleasing performances.

A country store Wednesday night and an amateur night Friday are the features for the week.

A new company will be seen beginning Sunday matinee.

"Mr. Plaster of Paris" is said to be a delightful offering with a real plot and numerous pleasing vaudeville specialties.

The Sigma's Program

"Wife in Name Only," which was adapted for the screen from Bertha M. Clay's novel of the same name, has been made into a photoplay and will appear for the last half of the week starting Thursday.

Aside from the intensely dramatic story, "Wife in Name Only" boasts a splendid cast, which numbers among its members Edmund Lowe, Florence Dixon, Mary Thurman, and Arthur Housman.

The story revolves around a society debutante whose love for Norman Arleigh is rejected. She immediately plans revenge upon him according to the remainder of the story, she certainly makes things "hot" for the object of her adoration and the girl he prefers to her.

"The White Moth" with Conway Tearle and Barbara La Marr is the Sigma's offering for the final times today. The photoplay is an absorbing romance of the French theatre, with a beautiful dancer as the human pivot around which the plot revolves. Others in the cast include Ben Lyon, Charles de Roche, Edna Murphy and Kathleen Kirkman.

WOMAN'S SECRET CHARM

In perfect health lies the secret of woman's charm which makes her radiate cheer and happiness wherever she goes. No one enjoys listening to the aches and pains and woes of an ailing, nervous, irritable woman, and her condition is plainly stamped upon every feature. The most effective remedy for womans' ailments ever discovered has proved to be Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women are soon restored to health by its use and acquire the charm that health alone can give. adv.

MANY RUN PAST DANGER SIGNAL SAYS OFFICE

Warning Not Heeded By People Around Lima

CO-OPERATION NECESSARY

Mr. William Hoffiz of 707 W. Elm-st., is a well known and popular member of the Lima police force.

"Last spring," said Mr. Hoffiz, "I got tired and worn out. I didn't have the life and energy I should have, and my appetite was poor. I was not much for taking medicine, but someone suggested that I take Pepgen, this medicine sold at Hunter's, that everybody is talking about. So I did so. It is wonderful the way this medicine built me up and improved my appetite.

"A great many people do not take any notice of the danger signals of their health. It is my opinion that a bottle of Pepgen taken as soon as you begin to feel run down and tired will keep a great deal of sickness away.

Pepgen is a well known herbal remedy. It is recommended for stomach gas and bloating, pains in the back, nervousness and that tired, worn out, draggy feeling. It has been called the medicine that put the "Pep" in the step of America.

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Stock prices moved upward at today's opening under the leadership of Crucible Steel, which responded to the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend with a gain of 1-2 points. Continued good inquiry was noted for the rubber issues and several industrial specialties, including Baldwin, which advanced a point. Accumulation of New York, Ontario and Western sent that stock higher.

Rapid advances in high-priced stocks gave further stimulus to speculative activities in the early dealings. General Electric mounted 3 1-4 points, General Baking 3 and American Tobacco 2 5-8, American Can, National Lead and American Tobacco B., with gains of more than a point each led an upward movement in other industrial specialties which included Congoleum, Colorado Fuel, Air Reduction and Savage Arms. New 1924 high records were Northern preferred and New York, Ontario and Western. Foreign exchanges opened higher.

The broad upward movement in the industrial list during the morning suggested a resumption of the main advance, gains of 2 and 2 3-4 points respectively, by Baldwin and American Can testifying to the urgency of the short covering. Advances of 1 to 3 points were quite common, also the rails with the exception of the St. Louis, Southwestern and Norfolk and Western issues did not participate in the upswing. New peak prices for the year were established by more than a dozen issues with the best exhibitions of group strength being given by the motor, rubber, food, tobacco and merchandising issues. Cuban Dominican Sugar jumped 5 3-8 points, Manila Electric railway 5 1-4 and Cushman and General Electric each extended their early gains to 4 1-4 points. Call money renewed at 2 per cent.

Stock prices moved up briskly in today's market which was featured by the extensive accumulation of industrial issues. Studebaker headed a long list of new 1924 high prices. Sales approximated 750,000 shares.

The closin gwas strong.

WILBUR RECALL EXPALINED

Not Because of Speech Criticism, Coolidge Says

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — It was reiterated at the White House that the recall of Secretary Wilbur had been requested by President Coolidge because important naval matters made it necessary to see him at once.

At the same time it was officially denied that the president had heard of any criticism of any speeches made on the Pacific coast by Secretary Miller, or any comment concerning them other than that they had been helpful.

A statement explaining the recall of Wilbur was issued at the White House. It said:

"It was officially denied at the White House that the president had heard of any criticism of any speeches made on the coast by Secretary Wilbur or any comment concerning them other than that they have been very helpful. The president has the highest regard for the service Secretary Wilbur has rendered as head of the navy and sent for the secretary solely to consult him on matters of purely domestic concern relating to the navy, telegraphing him that important naval matters made it necessary to see him at once."

Secretary Wilbur received the message from President Coolidge on Monday evening and he started immediately for this city making the first leg of his journey by airplane. At that time it was stated by C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to the president, that Wilbur had been asked to return to confer with the president on departmental matters and probably particularly on the budget which is now being framed.

RISE IN WHEAT IS CHECKED

Advance In Early Trading Followed By Decline

MARKET IS UNSETTLED

Heavy Drop In Corn Quotations Also Recorded

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press)—Active buying on the part of houses with seaboard connections made the wheat market average a little higher in price today during the early dealings. It was estimated that such purchases amounted to about 2,000,000 bushels. Estimates of a world shortage of 371,000,000 bushels of wheat as compared with last year attracted considerable notice. The opening, which ranged from 3-8c decline to 1-2c advance, with December $1.33 5-8 to 1.34 and May $1.39 3-4 to 1.40 1-4, was followed by slight gains all around.

Corn showed decided weakness. Favorable weather and lack of buying support were chiefly responsible. After opening at 1-2c lower to 1-4c gain, December $1.12 3-4 to 1.13 1-8, the market underwent a sharp general setback.

Oats were easier, owing to sympathy with corn. Starting unchanged to 1-4c lower, December 52 7-8c, prices continued to sag.

Provisions scored small gains.

Corn closed heavy, 3 5-8 to 6 1-4c net lower, December $1.07 3-8 to 1.07 5-8.

Wheat closed unsettled 1 1-2c to 2 1-4c net lower December $1.31 3-4 to 1.31 7-8 and May $1.38 to 1.38 1-8.

Watching The Markets

A gasoline price war is raging in England. Independents have forced the prices down to 32 cents on the part of the Standard Oil and the Shell interests by selling their own product at 31 cents a gallon. Further cuts are expected.

Quotations from the Chicago wheat pit are being broadcast every half hour by WGN. Market summaries are also being sent out at 1:25 and 6 p. m. central daylight saving time.

Reports from Oklahoma indicate that outside of those whose income is from oil all classes will be very prosperous this fall. Corn and hay crops are excellent and with cotton selling at a good price depressed conditions there will be eliminated.

As an indication regarding the financial position of the farmer, the emergency work of the War Finance Corp. will be discontinued. Approximately only $4,500,000 was needed by the small banks thruout the agricultural states and improved conditions have enabled these banks to get on a firm footing.

Merger of the Missouri Pacific, New Orleans, Texas and Mexico, International and Great Northern railroads will be discussed before the interstate commerce commission Oct. 3. The new company will operate 15,000 miles of line.

Production of tires for June and July totaled 4,316,728 and sales were 5,603,886, reports show. Inventory July 31 showed a decrease of $98,258 from the June 30 figures.

More blast furnaces will be started in the Youngstown district as the demand for steel and iron continues very good.

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Stock prices moved upward at today's opening under the leadership of Crucible Steel, which responded to the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend with a gain of 1 1-2 points. Continued good inquiry was noted for the rubber issues and several industrial specialties, including Baldwin, which advanced a point. Accumulation of New York, Ontario and Western sent that stock higher.

Rapid advances in high-priced stocks gave further stimulus to speculative activities in the early dealings. General Electric mounted 3 1-4 points, General Baking 3 and American Tobacco 2 5-8, American Can, National Lead and American Tobacco B., with gains of more than a point each led an upward movement in other industrial specialties which included Congoleum, Colorado Fuel, Air Reduction and Savage Arms. New 1924 high records were Northern preferred and New York, Ontario and Western. Foreign exchanges opened higher.

The broad upward movement in the industrial list during the morning suggested a resumption of the main advance, gains of 2 and 2 3-4 points respectively, by Baldwin and American Can testifying to the urgency of the short covering. Advances of 1 to 3 points were quite common, altho the rails with the exception of the St. Louis, Southwestern and Norfolk and Western issues did not participate in the upswing. New peak prices for the year were established by more than a dozen issues with the best exhibitions of group strength being given by the motor, rubber, food, tobacco and merchandising issues. Cuban Dominican Sugar jumped 5 3-8 points, Manila Electric railway 5 1-4 and Cushman and General Electric each extended their early gains to 4 1-4 points. Call money renewed at 2 per cent.

Stock prices moved up briskly in today's market which was featured by the extensive accumulation of industrial issues. Studebaker headed a long list of new 1924 high prices. Sales approximated 750,000 shares.

The closing was strong.

WILBUR RECALL EXPALINED

Not Because of Speech Criticism, Coolidge Says

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — It was reiterated at the White House that the recall of Secretary Wilbur had been requested by President Coolidge because important naval matters made it necessary to see him at once.

At the same time it was officially denied that the president had heard of any criticism of any speeches made on the Pacific coast by Secretary Miller, or any comment concerning them other than that they had been helpful.

A statement explaining the recall of Wilbur was issued at the White House. It said:

"It was officially denied at the White House that the president had heard of any criticism of any speeches made on the coast by Secretary Wilbur or any comment concerning them other than that they have been very helpful. The president has the highest regard for the service Secretary Wilbur has rendered as head of the navy and sent for the secretary solely to consult him on matters of purely domestic concern relating to the navy, telegraphing him that important naval matters made it necessary to see him at once."

Secretary Wilbur received the message from President Coolidge on Monday evening and he started immediately for this city making the first leg of his journey by airplane. At that time it was stated by C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to the president, that Wilbur had been asked to return to consult with the president on departmental matters and probably particularly on the budget which is now being framed.

RISE IN WHEAT IS CHECKED

Advance In Early Trading Followed By Decline

MARKET IS UNSETTLED

Heavy Drop In Corn Quotations Also Recorded

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press)—Active buying on the part of houses with seaboard connections made the wheat market average a little higher in price today during the early dealings. It was estimated that such purchases amounted to about 2,000,000 bushels. Estimates of a world shortage of 371,000,000 bushels of wheat as compared with last year attracted considerable notice. The opening, which ranged from 3-8c decline to 1-2c advance, with December $1.33 5-8 to 1.34 and May $1.39 3-4 to 1.40 1-4, was followed by slight gains all around.

Corn showed decided weakness. Favorable weather and lack of buying support were chiefly responsible. After opening at 1-2c lower to 1-4c gain, December $1.12 3-4 to 1.13 1-8, the market underwent a sharp general setback.

Oats were easier, owing to sympathy with corn. Starting unchanged to 1-4c lower, December 52 7-8c, prices continued to sag.

Provisions scored small gains.

Corn closed heavy, 3 5-8 to 6 1-4c net lower, December $1.07 3-8 to 1.07 5-8.

Watching The Markets

A gasoline price war is raging in England. Independents have forced the prices down to 32 cents on the part of the Standard Oil and the Shell interests by selling their own product at 31 cents a gallon. Further cuts are expected.

Quotations from the Chicago wheat pit are being broadcast every half hour by WGN. Market summaries are also being sent out at 1:25 and 6 p. m. central daylight saving time.

Reports from Oklahoma indicate that outside of those whose income is from oil all classes will be very prosperous this fall. Corn and hay crops are excellent and with cotton selling at a good price depressed conditions there will be eliminated.

As an indication regarding the financial position of the farmer, the emergency work of the War Finance Corp. will be discontinued. Approximately only $4,500,000 was needed by the small banks thruout the agricultural states and improved conditions have enabled these banks to get on a firm footing.

Merger of the Missouri Pacific, New Orleans, Texas and Mexico, International and Great Northern railroads will be discussed before the interstate commerce commission Oct. 3. The new company will operate 15,000 miles of line.

Production of tires for June and July totaled 4,316,728 and sales were 5,603,886, reports show. Inventory July 31 showed a decrease of 998,258 from the June 30 figures.

More blast furnaces will be started in the Youngstown district as the demand for steel and iron continues very good.

BODY OF BENJAMIN L. PARKS BROUGHT HERE
